Facilitator: Carolyn Jonsson, MA

Email: carolynj@columbia.ab.ca

Class Time: 5:30 PM - 9:30 PM (Mon./Wed.)

Room: 805-119

Prerequisite: None

Note: It is the student's responsibility to be familiar with the information contained in the Course Outline and to clarify any areas of concern with the facilitator.

Course Description:

In this course the student will gain an understanding of the foundations of language acquisition and literacy development. A key focus will be on how to improve language and literacy in speech, reading, and writing and what strategies will help students of all abilities to succeed in these areas. There will also be a discussion on modifications for literacy learning due to various exceptionalities and individual learner needs in an inclusive environment.

Learning Outcomes:

As a result of active participation in these sessions, a student can expect to:

- Identify and discuss the main perspectives on children's language acquisition.
- Develop an understanding of how children acquire and develop language.
- Identify how educators can accommodate for the diversity of learners needs and abilities.
- Describe how educational research in the area of literacy can enhance educational practice.
- Understand, compare, and evaluate perspectives on language acquisition.
- Begin to develop an understanding of how to facilitate oral language learning, reading, and writing.
- Identify emergent literacy strategies.
- Develop various methods to facilitate individual and small group literacy strategies.
- Identify the stages of children's language development accordingly.
- Identify strategies to improve learner's language acquisition and literacy skills.
- Develop an understanding of how to support family literacy initiatives.

Course Format:

This course uses a variety of teaching/learning methods including discussion, personal reflection, experiential exercises, student presentations, role-plays, group activities and especially case studies. Our faculty aims to create a learning environment where the learner is actively engaged in inquiry, critical thinking and problem solving. The classroom provides you with a place where you can learn with and from others in a cooperative and collaborative manner.

You are expected to take a very active part in class discussions and take responsibility for your own learning. Be a positive and co-operative team member. Columbia College uses a facilitation model of instruction where the facilitator's role is to facilitate your learning. The expectation is that you will come to class prepared with pre-class homework completed. Your facilitator will engage you in activities that are based on your completed homework and readings. Your enthusiastic and positive approach in the classroom will create an atmosphere that will help every student develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that are needed for success.

How you conduct yourself in our classes will, to a large extent, mirror your conduct in society and your future work site. For example, if you have a tendency to ask questions, challenge the ideas of others in a respectful manner, draw out the best from your colleagues, and encourage both group development and task accomplishment in this class, it is likely you will do the same at work. A high level of student involvement and developing professionalism is expected in the classroom as you work towards your goal.

This assignment is intended to help you think about and apply what you have learned about language and literacy. The topic of your paper is about "Language, Literacy and Differences in Learning". Answer the questions stated below in essay format. Use APA standards and provide at least three academic references from ProQuest and/or Gale in addition to the course text. The paper must have a minimum length of 1250 words, but the paper is not to exceed a maximum length of 1400 words (not including the title page, references, appendixes, table, and figure captions). The Cites text is the College's official source to use as a reference. Students will be evaluated according to the appended Research Rubric.

1. How do differences such as exceptionalities and learning styles in a child's development affect how they acquire language? Discuss various exceptionalities.
2. What is the long term effect of these differences without a literacy rich environment?
3. How can intervention strategies and a language rich classroom environment affect these differences? Give examples of intervention strategies. Describe what a language rich classroom environment would look like.
4. Describe the literacy development of a child who is learning more than one language at a time.
5. In conclusion, give you opinion about the connection between school and family in achieving literacy learning outcomes.
