

Columbia College
Introduction to Gender and Women Studies (SOCI255)
Lecture 1
Course Outline

Semester Dates: September 03, 2018 to October 06, 2018

Please note that when a holiday falls during the week, your class will be rescheduled for the Friday of that week. Students are required to make arrangements to be present at the rescheduled class.

Facilitator: Lola Emiko, MSW, RSW

Email: lolae@COLUMBIA.ab.ca

Class Time: 5:30 PM - 9:30 PM (Tue./Thur.)

Room: 805-114

Credit: 3

Prerequisite: None

Note: It is the student's responsibility to be familiar with the information contained in the Course Outline and to clarify any areas of concern with the facilitator.

Course Description:

This course informs and engages students on issues, theories and concepts and trends in gender and women's studies. The course examines various spectrums in the field, such as government policies, technology and the media and impacts on women and gender. Women's theories, such as feminism, current and historical movements, as well as their influences are analyzed. Issues of sexuality, including reproduction, gender violence and gender relations are also explored, for example: What is gender equality? What is gender power?

Learning Outcomes:

As a result of active participation in these sessions, a student can expect to:

- Demonstrate an understanding that gender operates on four different dimensions within our society: individual, interactional, institutional, and socio-cultural dimension
- Identify how family of origin affects one's perspective on gender
- Identify how the socio-cultural landscape is gendered and shapes our experience
- Describe the two key "lenses of gender" in our culture as they relate to difference and inequality
- Trace the development of feminism and identify their positions in terms of inequality and the rearrangement of the positions of women and men in society
- Analyze the stereotypes about the qualities of women and men as normative expectations against which people judge themselves and others
- Analyze how language and the media plays a major role in transmitting culture and shaping the gendered socio-cultural landscape
- Explain the impact of socialization creates gendered individuals who at adulthood perform gender in the course of making decisions about their lives
- Analyze how social structure and social institutions shape our actions and beliefs and how we choose our beliefs and ways of acting

Course Format:

This course uses a variety of teaching/learning methods including discussion, personal reflection, experiential exercises, student presentations, role-plays, group activities and especially case studies. Our faculty aims to create a learning environment where the learner is actively engaged in inquiry, critical thinking and problem solving. The classroom provides you with a place where you can learn with and from others in a cooperative and collaborative manner.

You are expected to take a very active part in class discussions and take responsibility for your own learning. Be a positive and co-operative team member. Columbia College uses a facilitation model of instruction where the facilitator's role is to facilitate your learning. The expectation is that you will come to class prepared with pre-class homework completed. Your facilitator will engage you in activities that are based on your completed homework and readings. Your enthusiastic and positive approach in the classroom will create an atmosphere that will help every student develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that are needed for success.

How you conduct yourself in our classes will, to a large extent, mirror your conduct in society and your future work site. For example, if you have a tendency to ask questions, challenge the ideas of others in a respectful manner, draw out the best from your colleagues, and encourage both group development and task accomplishment in this class, it is likely you will do the same at work. A high level of student involvement and developing professionalism is expected in the classroom as you work towards your goal.

Homework Assignment Due for the First Class:

- Read this course outline and be prepared to discuss.
- Read chapters 1 and 2 in the text, Exploring gender in Canada: A multi-dimensional approach.
- As a result of your reading assignment, write down at least three questions that you would want clarified in class.
- Prepare for a graded test on chapter 1 and 2

Evaluation - Assessment of Student Performance:

The final grade in the course will be based on the following elements. Wherever possible facilitators will use rubrics to assess your performance and offer feedback.

Title of Assignment/Examination	Due Date	Weight
Daily Tests	Classes 1-9	30%
Assignment 1	Class 6	20%
Assignment 2	The Friday after Class 2, 4, 6, and 8	20%
Final Exam	Class 10	30%

Please note that all homework and assignments are due at the beginning of each class.

Grading:

Grades for each component will be added together at the end of the semester. The final total will be translated to the Columbia College's 4.0 grading scale as follows:

Marking and Grading Conversion:

Description	Letter Grade	Grade Points	Percentage Scale
Excellent	A+	4.0	100	95
	A	4.0	94	90
	A-	3.7	89	85
Good	B+	3.3	84	80
	B	3.0	79	75
	B-	2.7	74	70
Satisfactory	C+	2.3	69	65
	C	2.0	64	60
	C-	1.7	59	55
Poor	D	1.0	54	50
Failure	F	0.0	49	0

Please note that to pass this course you must earn at least a "D" (a minimal pass).

Submission and Completion of Assignments:

You are expected to submit assignments by the due date. Any late assignments may be assessed a marking penalty of 5% per day. If you are unable to submit an assignment on the due date, you must request an extension before the due date by filling out an Application for Assignment Extension form (SSPP-F012) that is to be submitted to the Department Chair for approval. This form is available on Columbia's website, Bldg. 802 – Main Office and from Department Chairs.

Requesting an Examination Deferral:

If you are requesting an exam to be deferred, you must submit an Application for Deferred Examinations form (SSPP-F012) to the Department Chair within 48 hours of the missed examination date and time. Applications for deferred examinations will only be considered due to medical or personal emergency. A medical certificate or other appropriate documentation may be required. This form is available on Columbia's website, Bldg. 802-Main Office and from Department Chairs.

Attendance Requirements:

Columbia College believes that students are committed to their program and learning experiences. However, it is understood that there are times when students may be absent. Any absences can be viewed as a potentially serious disruption of the learning process and necessary achievement of the learning objectives. Being late is also considered unacceptable as it interferes with the learning opportunities of others. Unavoidable absences or lateness must be reported to the course facilitator in advance. Please refer to Columbia College's Attendance Policy and Regulations (ADM-P151) for detailed information on Attendance Requirements.

Academic Integrity:

Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from Columbia College.

There is no tolerance for academic dishonesty and any student caught plagiarizing is subject to serious sanctions as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct Policy (ADM-P229). Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with this policy and avoid any behavior that could possibly be seen as cheating, plagiarizing, misrepresenting, or putting into question the integrity of one's academic work.

Student Conduct:

It is the responsibility of each student to uphold the expectations and responsibilities outlined in the Student Code of Conduct Policy (ADM-P229), Columbia's Commitment to Human Rights and Diversity Policy (ADM-P079), and any additional requirements established by your program.

Generally, each student will:

- be respectful and courteous toward others;
- demonstrate appropriate and supportive communication skills, and coach, assist, advise and otherwise support other students in their studies;
- manage any personal stress and conflict in a positive and resourceful manner, and assist others to do the same;
- be dressed in a manner appropriate for their workplace or learning environment, as established by the program;
- conduct themselves in a professional manner with regard to their communication with others and their behavior in class;
- conduct themselves with academic integrity in all of their learning activities, tests, exams, and assignments
- keep up with day-to-day classroom and course expectations.

Important Dates:

Description	Date
Last to add/drop courses	5 school operating days from the start of the semester OR before the third scheduled class, whichever is greater
Last day to withdraw without academic penalty	50% or less of the semester has been completed
Final Examination	A final exam may take many formats. If a final exam is scheduled, it will be taken in an assigned room under the supervision of a Test Proctor. Students must be on time as they will not be permitted to enter once the exam has started. Exam schedules are available in each building on a bulletin board, as well as, online at www.columbia.ab.ca/exams . It is the student's responsibility to check this exam posting.

Appeals:

Please refer to the Student Appeal Policy (ADM-P177).

Students with Temporary or Permanent Disabilities or Medical Condition:

Students with temporary or permanent disabilities may apply for accommodations. To be considered for an accommodation, a student must register with Columbia College's Accessibility Services by making an appointment with an Accessibility Services Advisor – Main Office – Bldg. 802 or emailing accessibilityservices@columbia.ab.ca. The Department Chair or facilitator is not able to provide you with any accommodations without you taking this step. Please refer to Columbia College's website to review the Student Accommodation Policy (ADM-P188) and Student Guide to Accessibility Services (SSCM-001).

Student Support:

Students should be aware that Life Coaching, Career and Accessibility Services, and Student Support Services (i.e. tutoring, academic strategists, etc.) are provided by Columbia College. Inquire how to request these services at the Main Office in building 802. It is the student's responsibility to discuss their specific learning needs with the appropriate service provider.

Class Schedule/Overview:

Please note that this schedule is subject to change. Any changes or cancellations will be emailed to you. It is your responsibility to check the email address you have given to the school on a daily basis for any messages from the Department Chair/designate, facilitator or College Administration. It is the student's responsibility to be familiar with the information contained in the Course Outline and to clarify any areas of concern with the facilitator.

Appendix 1 Assignment Outlines

Please note: Students must complete all assignments, tests, and final exam in order to pass this course.

Tests:

Due Date: Each class from classes 1 through 9.

Weight: 30%

Students will be expected to read the assigned chapters in the text and other assigned readings and be prepared to write a graded test based on these reading assignments.

Assignment 1: Television Gender Study

Due Date: Class 6

Weight: 20%

Students are required to write about on gender roles/representation based off of a fictional TV series. Students should comment critically on the portrayal of gender of one or two regular or occasional characters on the series; students might center on the representation of male and/or female characters or characters who transcend the gender binary of male/female. In addition, students may also look at the ways that gender intersects with race/ethnicity/age/sexuality-sexual orientation in the portrayal of a particular character(s) – their occupational roles, relationship and family roles, etc.

Some issues to consider when analyzing characters:

- a) Roles and occupations within the series (leading, secondary?) and genre (e.g., crime, medical, family sitcom, etc.); roles in relation to other characters
- b) Age and physical appearance/attention to appearance;
- c) Depiction of sexuality/sexual relationships
- d) Representation of friendship
- e) Parenthood/family-work dynamics
- f) Education/school issues
- g) Explicit discussion of gender issues

Students may write about a single episode as typical of the series or write about the series as a whole. Examples from the TV series should be supported by information from the class textbook. Students will be assessed using the Critical Analysis Writing Marking Rubric.

Assignment 2: Gender Observation Journal

Due Date: Electronically on the Friday after Class 2, 4, 6, and 8 at 11:59 pm.

Weight: 20%

Students will be required to keep of a journal of their observations of gender in everyday life. Since gendered expectations and practices have become normalized and naturalized in our lives, they remain largely invisible when left unquestioned. Thus, the journal will assist students in becoming more aware of how gendered expectations affect them and others on a day-to-day basis. Observations each week should pertain to the topic covered in class that week as indicated in the course outline and should be illustrative of concepts, debates, ideas, controversies, etc. discussed in class. Observations can include the behavior of others, but should also take into account their own gendered practices. Students should submit each observation weekly to the facilitator by Friday at 11:59 pm and should use the template provided below. Students will be graded on a total of four observations.

Name: _____

Week #: _____

Observation #: _____

GENDER OBSERVATION JOURNAL:

Keep a journal of your observations of gender in everyday life. Since gendered expectations and practices have become normalized and naturalized in our lives, they remain largely invisible when left unquestioned. Thus, the journal will assist you in becoming more aware of how gendered expectations affect you and others on a day-to-day basis.

Expectations: Observations each week should pertain to the topic covered in class this week as indicated in the course outline and should be illustrative of concepts, debates, ideas, controversies, etc. discussed in class. Observations can include the behavior of others, but should also take into account your own gendered practices.

Each entry should be a minimum of 250 words and a maximum of 500 words.

Summary of Reflections:

Writing Assignment Expectations:

- Objective: The objective of this writing assignment is to critically apply concepts, ideas, and procedures to facilitate higher level learning. The assignments are designed so students can demonstrate the depth of knowledge related to the course content.
- Focus: This assignment is designed to apply knowledge from the chapters and class discussions.
- Format: This assignment should be typed and double-spaced. Do not include title pages. Include your name at the top of each page. A minimum of one inch margins on each side. 12 point Times New Roman font is preferred. Each assignment should have a minimum length of 250 words but is not to exceed 500 words. Students will be evaluated according to the attached rubric: Generation Interview Rubric.

How to avoid plagiarism?

The simplest way to avoid plagiarism is to reference any source properly (using both in-text, parenthetical citations in the body of your assignment and a "References" page at the end. While it is commonplace to build upon the knowledge of others, it is necessary to clearly state the sources and foundations of that knowledge.

Final Exam

Due Date: Class 10

Weight: 30%

Students will be required to write a final exam based on the content of classroom learning and the assigned text readings. The exam will contain approximately 100 multiple choice questions.
