Course Description:

In this course we will explore child developmental to prepare learners for work with children in a variety of settings. Specifically, the course will explore the theories and research that have shaped our understanding of human development. The course will also examine the various stages of physical, cognitive, intellectual, sexual, social, perceptual, language, personality, and moral growth from birth to adolescence. In addition, the course will explore the development of relationships, self, gender, and sex roles in youth, and how the family, school, peers, media, and culture influence such development.

Course Outcomes:

As a result of active participation in these sessions, a student can expect to:

- Understand the basic issues in the study of child development, including theories, research designs and methods
- Understand physical development in children, including various systems (brain, nervous, endocrine, and reproductive); sexual behavior in adolescence; size, shape, and skills; and health and wellness
- Discuss perceptual development in children, including sensory and perceptual skills, object concept, and perception of social signals
- Understand cognitive development in children, including structure, process, and individual differences in intelligence and cognitive abilities
- Identify the process of language development and apply it to case studies
- Describe how personality development occurs and analyze its effect on the child as they age
- Analyze the development of concepts of self, gender, and sex roles and how this development is reflected in issues surrounding these experiences
- Discuss the development of social relationships with parents and peers
- Understand the social-cognitive and moral development in relationships
- Become familiar with the child within the family system, including structure, divorce and parenting styles, and employment
- Understand cultural environmental impacts on child development, including school and media
- Analyze atypical development, including attention, intellectual, and social growth and how this development influences child growth and maturity.

Course Format:

This remote course uses a variety of online teaching/learning methods including discussion, personal reflection, experiential exercises, student presentations, role-plays, group activities and especially case studies. Our faculty aims to create a learning environment where the learner is actively engaged in inquiry, critical thinking and problem solving. The online classroom provides you with a place where you can learn with and from others in a cooperative and collaborative manner.

You are expected to take a very active part in online class discussions in addition to taking responsibility for your own learning. The course expects you to be a positive and co-operative team member. Columbia College uses a facilitation model of instruction where the facilitator's role is to facilitate your learning. The expectation is that you will come to class prepared with pre-class homework completed. Your facilitator will engage you in activities that are based on your completed homework and readings. Your enthusiastic and positive approach in the classroom will create an atmosphere that will help every student develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that are needed for success.

How you conduct yourself in our synchronous and asynchronous class activities will, to a large extent, mirror your conduct in society and your future work site. For example, if you have a tendency to ask questions, challenge the ideas of others in a respectful manner, draw out the best from your colleagues, and encourage both group development and task accomplishment in this class, it is likely you will do the same at work. A high level of student involvement and developing professionalism is expected in the online classroom as you work towards your goal.

Please refer to Columbia College's Attendance Policy and Regulations (ADM-P151) for detailed information on Attendance Requirements.

Academic Integrity:

Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from Columbia College.

There is no tolerance for academic dishonesty and any student caught plagiarizing is subject to serious sanctions as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct Policy (ADM-P229). Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with this policy and avoid any behavior that could possibly be seen as cheating, plagiarizing, misrepresenting, or putting into question the integrity of one's academic work.

Please refer to Columbia College's website to review the Student Accommodation Policy (ADM-P188) and the Student Guide to Accessibility Handbook (SSCM-001).

Student Support:

Students should be aware that Life Coaching, Career and Accessibility Services, and Student Support Services (i.e. tutoring, academic strategists, etc.) are provided by Columbia College. Appendix 1 Assignment Outlines

Please note: Students must complete all assignments, tests, and final projects in order to pass this course

Daily Tests

Due Date: Each class from classes 1 through 10.

Weight: 25%

Students will be expected to read the assigned chapters in the text and other assigned readings and be prepared to write a graded test based on these reading assignments on the day of class. All tests are available on Moodle from 8:30 AM to 11:59 PM on the day of the scheduled class. All daily tests are one attempt limit assessments.

Individual Presentations

Due Date: Each class from classes 3 thru 10

Weight: 20%

Individually, participants will work to develop, plan and deliver a 5-8-minute presentation based on one concept from the course. Your facilitator will explain the details further in class

Using an excellent variety of presentation methods, participants will highlight key features and insights from their chosen concept and relate them to practical application, personal stories and information from course material and texts.

The presentation must include the following:

1. Present an outline of the key points of the concepts and explain how these key concepts apply to your chosen program.
2. Students should choose one concept and should relate the concept to a real-life situation, such as an educational setting.
3. Students should present using a program learned in INTE125 – PowerPoint/Prezi for example

Students should be prepared to respond to questions from class members. Students will be evaluated on their individual presentation using the Oral Presentation Rubric provided in this course outline.

Writing Assignment A Outline

Due: Class 5

Weight: 5%

Students are required to complete an outline for Assignment A including the following parts:

- a) Thesis Statement (briefly mentioning what main ideas will be covered in Writing Assignment A)
- b) Outline of all main ideas supported with specific examples from the textbook (these examples must be cited in proper APA format)
- c) This assignment will be submitted to Microsoft Teams Assignments page

Students will be provided with a template to use to complete this assignment. Please access this on your EAPR105 Moodle page.

Writing Assignment A

Due: Class 7

Choose one of the following topics for your Writing Assignment A:

Topic A: Briefly describe oppositional defiant disorder, school phobia, and childhood depression. What kinds of psychological treatments are available to families who suffer with mental illness? What roles can an education assistant play in supporting youth with opposition defiance disorder?

Topic B:

Explain the differences between hostile aggression, instrumental aggression, and relational aggression. Explain gender differences with regard to aggression. What role can an education assistant play in supporting schools and students with regards to aggression?

Final Reflection Project (Critical Writing Response)

Due Date: Class 10

Weight: 30%

The final project will enable you to explore an area within the field of Child Development and apply it to the classroom. You have explored the various domains of child development, including cognitive, physical and socio-emotional domains. These three domains are closely interrelated. Please choose one of these areas and explore the topic more thoroughly than is presented in the text.

Explain how you could successfully integrate your learning of a given area into the classroom so that children can develop in the best way possible.

What are the implications if this is not done?

Your reflection should be more than a review of material in the text, but rather an expanded, more thorough learning that may be relevant to you now or in the future.

Writing Assignment Expectations (Both Writing Assignment A and Reflection Project):

- Objective: The objectives of the two writing assignments are to critically apply concepts, ideas, and procedures to facilitate higher level learning. The assignments are designed so students can demonstrate depth of knowledge related to the course content.
- Focus: Each assignment is designed to apply knowledge from the chapters and class discussions.
- Format: All assignments will be double-spaced. Do not include title pages. Include your name at the top of each page. A minimum of one inch margins on each side. 12 point Times New Roman font is preferred. Each assignment should have a minimum length of 500 words but is not to exceed 750 words. Students will be evaluated according to the attached rubric: Critical Response Marking Rubric.

How to avoid plagiarism

The simplest way to avoid plagiarism is to reference any sources properly (using both in-text, parenthetical citations in the body of your assignment and a 'References' page at the end). While it is commonplace to build upon the knowledge of others, it is necessary to clearly state the sources and foundations of that knowledge. Referencing must conform to the APA style outlined in your ENGL110-1 Textbook (Tab 7).
