Lecture 1

Course Outline

Semester Dates: August 01, 2016 – September 03, 2016

Please note that when a holiday falls during the week, your class will be rescheduled for the Friday of that week. Students are required to make arrangements to be present at the rescheduled class.

Facilitator: Elizabeth Bertram, MSc. (Psychology). Email: elizabethb@columbia.ab.ca

Class Time: 8:30 am – 5:00 pm (Sat) Room: 805-114

Credit: 3 Prerequisite: None

Note: It is the student's responsibility to be familiar with the information contained in the Course Outline and to clarify any areas of concern with the facilitator.

Course Description:

Human rights and diversity issues play an important role in Criminal Justice practice. This course will provide students with the opportunity to examine current issues and social problems relating to our current cultural society. It will provide an understanding of diversity and the associated problems and issues surrounding it. Students will also investigate the myths and realities surrounding race, gender, social class, crime, and the roles these issues have played in criminal sentencing. First Nations issues and the factors underpinning the Aboriginal people's overrepresentation in the Criminal Justice system will be investigated in detail.

Learning Outcomes:

As a result of active participation in these sessions, a student can expect to:

- Discuss the basic concepts underpinning diversity, multiculturalism, human rights in Canadian context.
- Explain the various rights and freedom enshrined in Canadian human rights legislation and practices.
- Discuss cultural and religious diversity and know the ramifications of topics such as family violence, mental health issues and developmental disabilities.
- Discuss the cross-cultural and racial contact that police officers and civilian employees have with citizens, victims, suspects, and co-workers from diverse backgrounds.
- Demonstrate a working knowledge and understanding of cultural diversity in Canadian society and workplace.
- Critically assess the key trends and issues surrounding cultural diversity in Canada, our communities and workplaces.

Course Format:

This course uses a variety of teaching/learning methods including discussion, personal reflection, experiential exercises, student presentations, role-plays, group activities and especially case studies. Our faculty aims to create a learning environment where the learner is actively engaged in inquiry, critical thinking and problem solving. The classroom provides you with a place where you can learn with and from others in a cooperative and collaborative manner.

You are expected to take a very active part in class discussions and take responsibility for your own learning. Be a positive and co-operative team member. Columbia College uses a facilitation model of instruction where the facilitator's role is to facilitate your learning. The expectation is that you will come to class prepared with pre-class homework completed. Your facilitator will engage you in activities that are based on your completed homework and readings. Your enthusiastic and positive approach in the classroom will create an atmosphere that will help every student develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that are needed for success.

How you conduct yourself in our classes will, to a large extent, mirror your conduct in society and your future work site. For example, if you have a tendency to ask questions, challenge the ideas of others in a respectful manner, draw out the best from your colleagues, and encourage both group development and task accomplishment in this class, it is likely you will do the same at work. A high level of student involvement and developing professionalism is expected in the classroom as you work towards your goal.

Appendix 1 Assignment Outlines

Quizzes

Due Date: Daily (at the beginning of each class; 1 through 8)

Weight: 20%

Students will be expected to read the assigned chapters in the text and other assigned readings and be prepared to write a graded quiz based on these reading assignments.

Class Summary Test

Due Date: Daily (at the conclusion of the class; 1 through 8)

Weight: 10%

Students will conclude each of the classes with a summary of the day's topic that answers the following: "What did I learn? What do I need to know more about? What steps do I need to do to be successful in light of what I learned today?" Be sure to specifically refer to what was discussed during the class. Write in a reflective journaling style and turn your answers into the facilitator for grading. The paper will have a minimum length of 250 words and contain insight into each of these three questions.

Answers are to be written in the last 30 minutes of the class. No answers will be accepted that were prepared prior. If you are absent from the Summary Test, you will receive a "zero".

Assignment – Term Paper

Due Date: Class 5

Weight: 20%

Students will submit a 1,250 to 1,500-word term paper critically examining a relevant text topic of choice. Students should apply the theories and concepts learned in this course to their particular career choice. The essay must have a minimum length of 1,250 words (not including the cover page and the reference page), use APA standards, and contain at least two references in addition to the course text. Students will be evaluated according to the attached rubric.

Role Play Exercise & Reflective Paper

Due date: Class 8 & 9

Weight: 20% (10% Role Play Exercise & 10% Reflective Paper)

For this exercise, your facilitator will place you in groups (i.e., 3 or 4 students per group). We all have experienced some bias/es or stereotype/s from others in our lives, perhaps related to gender, race, culture, faith or sex, etc. Keeping in mind your student code of conduct and confidentiality policy in human services profession, your first role [class 8] in this assignment is to share a story of how you dealt with bias/es or stereotype/s in your past. Your second role [class 9] is to reflect on one group member's story of your choice, and write a minimum of 400-words reflective paper, regarding how you felt about that group member's story, and add anything that you could have done, if you were the person who experienced what you heard. Please email your reflective paper to your facilitator by class 9, 11:59PM. Students will be evaluated according to the attached reflective writing paper and in-class learning activity rubrics.

N.B. This assignment is meant for learning self-practices in human services. Because of this, you do not have to share your real experience/s (if you do not feel comfortable); you can share a fictional story, if that is the case. And if you don't feel comfortable sharing your experience with your group member, or doing this assignment, please speak with your facilitator; in that case, you may be presented an alternative assignment.

Final Project

Due Date: Class 10 by 11:59PM

Weight: 30%

Students will be required to write a final project covering the content of classroom lessons and assigned text and other readings. This project will be a self-reflective exercise around issues of diversity and human rights. Please write a minimum of 1000-words reflection paper by answering the following questions.

1. What is your personal identity, race, culture and faith? How do you see this impact clients you serve in your profession? (minimum 350 words)
2. Stereotypes or biases about people can undermine best practices in your work. Name and explain three ways to avoid biases/stereotypes about people. (minimum 350 words)
3. How can you promote social justice & inclusion in your work with one of the visible minority groups in Canada? Hint: for example, a student can talk about attending cultural events or changing a “bad” government policy, related to this group, etc. (Please pick ONLY ONE of the following groups in answering this question) [minimum 350 words]
 - i. People with Asian heritage
 - ii. People with Middle Eastern heritage
 - iii. People with Latin American heritage
 - iv. People with African heritage
 - v. People with Indigenous heritage (Aboriginal people of Canada)
